

Promethean Books continues to foster successful partnerships with trusted names throughout the Food & Beverage Industry as How to Burn Down the House, both the book and its nationally acclaimed companion seminar, play an increasingly vital role in the understanding and eradication of employee theft.

As the first insider's expose of the actual methods and mindset of dishonest employees, How to Burn Down the House, aka the Scam Bible, has been an instant boon to individual operators, as well as consultants and industry pundits like the National & State Restaurant Associations, SYSCO, Bevinco and The Restaurant Doctor, and for educators at hospitality programs around the country, such as the University of New Orleans, where the book has energized their cost control courses since its release in 2005.

As the first book to pinpoint the vulnerabilities of POS systems, the Scam Bible has become a valuable resource and marketing tool for software manufacturers like Radiant Systems, Micros, NCR and numerous others in the cash register business.

From coast to coast, the revolutionary seminar, How to Burn Down the House: The Practice & Prevention of Employee Theft, has electrified audiences of all sizes, at events such as the National Restaurant Association's Executive Study Group on Loss Prevention, educational venues for SYSCO's clients and salespeople, for POS software manufacturers like Infogenesis, and at the country's most prestigious industry gatherings like the Texas Restaurant Association's EXPO, the Florida Food & Lodging Show and others.

Allow us to partner with your business or institution, through affordable Industry discounts on books and cutting edge educational seminars, to deliver this valuable information and cost-effective training to your management staff, clients, salespeople, students and associates.
